Ronald will be lovingly remembered by his two sisters: Doreen Munro, and Karen (Jim) Moorman; two brothers: Joseph (Ramona) Feltin, and Ken (Susan) Feltin; one brother-in-law, Benji Schlosser; and numerous nephews, nieces, and cousins. Ronald was predeceased by his parents, Joseph and Mary (nee Duerr) Feltin; two sisters: Virginia (Wilfred) Hergott, and Lucille Schlosser; brother-in-law, Hugo Daschner; three nieces: Wanda Feltin, Linda Daschner, and Kim Daschner; and one nephew Ross Moorman.

Ronald was born to Joseph and Mary (nee Duerr) Feltin at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Humboldt, SK, on Wednesday, October 7, 1942. He attended Dixon Country School and helped out on the family farm in the Dixon area. After his parents retired from farming, Ronald moved into Humboldt with them. His mother passed away in 1991, and Ronald then moved into the group home in Humboldt and worked at Futuristic Industries in the woodshop. He kept busy picking bottles and helping at Hannigans, packaging utensils for them. In 2014, due to failing health, Ronald moved into Quill Plains Centennial Lodge in Watson, Saskatchewan.

Now that you are gone we remember,
Good times that we have had.
Yet somehow these joyful memories
Seem to make us sad.
You became a part
Of each of our lives,
In your own special way.
Now after your death
We shall think of you
As we live from day to day.

APPRECIATION

The family wishes to express their gratitude for your kindness evidenced in thought and deed,
and for your attendance at the funeral service.
