

*When tomorrow starts without me,
and I'm not here to see.
If the sun should rise and find your eyes,
filled with tears for me.*

*I wish so much you wouldn't cry,
the way you did today,
While thinking of the many things,
we didn't get to say.*

*I know how much you love me,
as much as I love you,
And each time you think of me,
I know you'll miss me too.*

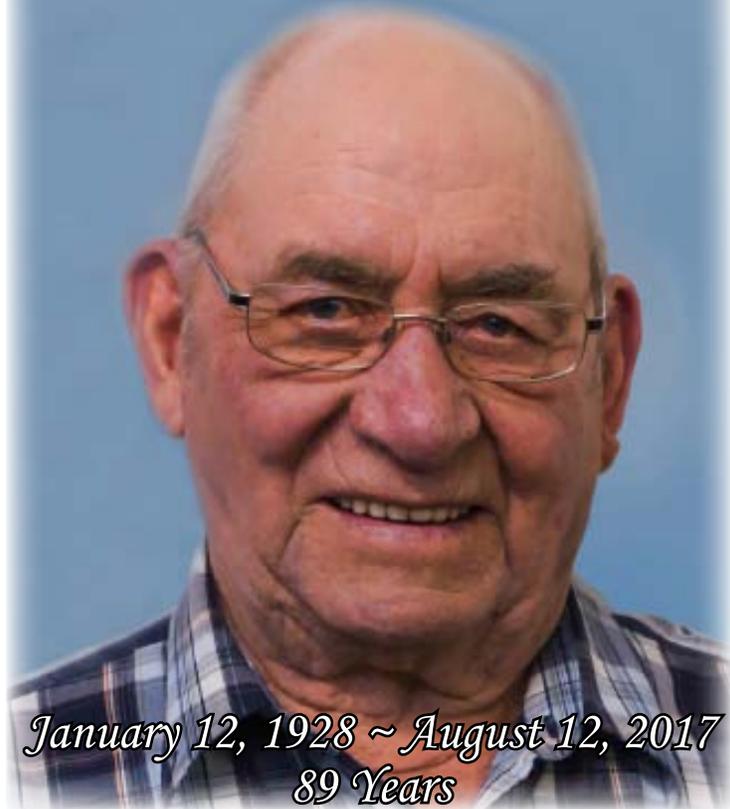

*When tomorrow starts without me,
don't think we're far apart,
for every time you think of me,
I'm right there in your heart.*

Carl was born at Annaheim; delivered at home by the local mid-wife Mrs Specht. Carl was the youngest of the three Henry Dosch boys. On October 4, 1949 Carl married Geraldine Roenspies, the love of his life, and together they began life on the farm. Carl was proud to be called a farmer. He was the middle of 5 generations to farm the Ed Meyer homestead (maternal grandfather) located just northwest of Annaheim.

Family was important to Carl. He started out as a mixed farmer, but as his family grew and money was tight he ventured out, bought a backhoe and started his own small business. The changing times meant farm families were installing running water and septic tanks. Digging with his backhoe, Carl filled this niche for his community. He also provided Annahiem with a much needed grave digging service, replacing the hand shovel. Carl's life modeled what he believed: you need to work, to pray and take time to play. He had an easy laugh like his Mother. Whenever you walked into a gathering, if you paused to listen, you could locate Carl by his laughter. Carl believed in community involvement and was an active member of the Knights of Columbus Annaheim council. Having raised a family of seven, Carl finally had time to indulge in fishing, a sport he loved. Year round he enjoyed nothing more than getting into his half ton and driving to a nearby fishing hole. On the way home, dropping by the local watering hole, topped off his day. Carl's fishing escapades were legendary and a watchful guardian angel brought him through some close calls. He was known throughout the community for his tasty smoked fish. Carl also valued time spent with his grandchildren and great-grandchildren. In the fall of 2016 when his health was failing, he left the farm and moved to Caleb. There he once again took up playing cards, enjoying nothing better than a good Buck game.

Carl is survived by his loving wife of 67 years, Geraldine (nee Roenspies) Dosch; children Gwendolyn (Gilbert) Fagnou of Calgary, Jane (Gerard) Deutsch of Regina, Lionel (Mary Anne) Dosch of Annaheim, Carleen (Gregory) Wallace of New Westminster, Leland Dosch of Annaheim, Fay (Murray) Doepker of Saskatoon, Gordon Dosch of Annahiem, 16 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren. Carl was predeceased by his two infant children Rosalie and Ardean; grandsons Jeff and Todd Dosch; his parents Henry and Mary (nee Meyer) Dosch; and two sisters Audrey Kettel and Marian Buettner.
