

*To those I love, and those who love me
You mustn't tie yourself to me with tears,
For I've gone home.
Be happy that we had the years
I gave to you my love, you can only guess
How much you gave me in happiness.
I thank you for the love you each have shown,
But now it's time I travel on alone.
So grieve a while for me, if grieve you must;
Then let your grief be comforted by trust.
It's only for a while that we must part,
So bless the memories within your heart.
I won't be far away, for life goes on;
So if you need me, call and I will come,
Though you can't see me or touch me,
"I'll be near".
And if you listen with your heart, you'll hear
All of my love around you soft and clear.
And then, when you must come this way alone,
I'll greet you with a smile and say,
"Welcome Home".*

Richard, one of eight children, was born on the homestead on March 29, 1928 near Carmel, SK, to Charles and Mary (nee Jurgens) Reineke. Raised on the family farm, he developed a deep love for nature and country life and eventually took over the family farm as the rest of the family reached out in various directions. Richard met and married the love of his life, Olga Kehrig on January 30, 1961, and there they raised their five beautiful daughters: Eileen, Lois, Maureen, Judy and Laura. Over the next 40 plus years, Richard saw his family grow with the addition of five sons-in-law and 17 grandchildren. Through it all, his devotion to his Lord, his love of family and his passion for his farm set a beautiful example of a life well lived, full of love, laughter and joy. Richard grew up near Mount Carmel, where he unfailingly attended the annual pilgrimage for over 80 years, right until his health no longer allowed. His quick smile, quiet devotion and unvarnished faith was a welcome sight to generations of fellow pilgrims. In 2005, Richard and Olga moved into Humboldt where they enjoyed 10 happy years in retirement; gardening, puzzle making, attending mass and hosting family and friends in their cozy condo. With the health challenges of advancing age, they moved to Samaritan Place in Saskatoon, an innovative retirement home where those with differing health care needs can continue to remain together as a couple. Richard's passions in life were easily recognizable; a deep faith, a loving family and a prosperous farm. He was an avid wood and metal worker. His hand-made rocking cradles welcomed each new grandchild, who would soon come to cherish the dollhouse that followed. Richard is survived by his cherished wife Olga; daughters: Eileen (Jim) Chuey, [children, Andrea, Jennifer, and Katie]; Lois (Ted) Brockman, [children, Megan, Katrina, and Jillian]; Maureen (Michael) Kilburn, [children, Chelsea, Rebecca, and Rachael]; son-in law, Hilary LaBrash, [children, Danielle, Miranda, Justin, and Adam]; and daughter Laura (Mike) Cey, [children, Reagan, Paige, Mackenzie, and Jacob]. He was predeceased by his daughter Judy LaBrash (2012); parents: mother, Mary (1951), and father, Charles (1986); and by his seven brothers and sisters.
