Terry, as he was affectionately called, was born to Irvin and Mary (nee Fleischhacker) Loxterkamp at Humboldt on September 23, 1955. He was raised on the family farm in the Fulda district. Terry attained his elementary education at Fulda and graduated from Grade 12 at Humboldt Collegiate Institute. Following his formal education he farmed with his father on the family farm. Although he worked at various occupations during the years, farming was always his passion. On July 15, 1978, Terry married Sharon Sand in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church at Fulda. They were blessed with three children; Megan in 1982, Nathan in 1984, and Thea in 1990. Terry and his family moved into Humboldt in 2002. Throughout his life, Terry was an avid sports fan; he was back catcher for the Fulda Flyers, curled during his high school years, and was an enthusiastic lifetime fan of the Chicago Blackhawks and the Humboldt Broncos. He loved hockey and also spent many pleasurable hours watching hockey games at the local rink, no matter who was playing. Other favourite pastimes included camping at the lake especially the yearly trips to Waskesiu and recently their new site at Wakaw Lake, and exercising his skill with puzzle books and fill-it-ins. Terry was a true "people person" with an outgoing personality and boisterous laugh. No matter where he went he seemed to know someone, and no matter where you were, you could hear if Terry was around. Terry was a family man and his family meant the world to him. He was so very proud of his children and his grandson Isaac was his pride and joy. More than anything, he was known as a devoted husband, father, grandfather, and son.

AFTERGLOW

I'd like the memory of me to be a happy one.

I'd like to leave an afterglow of smiles when life is done.

I'd like to leave an echo whispering softly down the ways.

Of happy times and laughing times and bright and sunny days.

I'd like the tears of those who grieve to dry before the sun

Of happy memories that I leave when life is done.

Helen Lowrie Marshall
